

MAY SPREAD TYPHUS.

A Man Sick with the Disease Escapes from a Hospital.

Broke a Window While Delirious and Jumped Into the Yard.

Byrnes's Men and Sanitary Officers Searching the City for Him.

The escape of a typhus fever patient from the Reception Hospital at the foot of East Sixteenth street has caused grave alarm to the Health Department.

A vigorous search for the escaped patient, who may be spreading the dread disease throughout the city, is being made by members of Capt. Byrnes's force and the sanitary school.

The name of the patient is Leo Rosenblatt. He is nineteen years old, and in the alarm sent out by the police it is described as being a feet tall and dressed in light clothes, with black braid across the breast. He wore a black hat which was spotted with pink paint.

Dr. Roberts, of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, was notified yesterday of a case of typhus fever in the tenement, 21 Eighth street.

Rosenblatt was found there sick with typhus in the apartments of his brother-in-law. He had been there twenty-four hours, having previously lived in a double tenement at 240 and 242 Cherry street, where a number of cases of typhus were reported early in the month.

Rosenblatt was taken to the Reception Hospital at 2:30 p.m. yesterday. He was last seen by the attendants at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, when he was lying on a cot with his clothes on. There was no other patient in the ward.

Ten minutes later it was found that Rosenblatt had escaped.

He had placed a washstand on his bed, put a chair on the washstand and smashed a pane of glass in the window.

"Through this hole, about 15x16 inches, he crawled and dropped to the yard, a distance of about forty feet."

He was seen crossing the yard by a man on a street-cleaning department wagon. The same man said Rosenblatt had been sick about six days and was slightly delirious. In fact, he was at the stage of the disease when it is most contagious.

The alarm was immediately sent out, and the regular and sanitary police began a search which was continued all night without success.

No trace of him has yet been discovered. The longer he is at large the greater is the cause for alarm, as there is hardly a limit to the number of persons he might affect.

RAN BLAZING INTO THE STREET.
Mrs. Ahgood Accidentally Sets Her Clothes Afire.

Mrs. Kate Ahgood, of 410 West Seventeenth street, narrowly escaped death from flames this morning. She took a lighted lamp and went into her bedroom to look for her daughter's dress, when suddenly one of her lace curtains caught fire from the lighted lamp. Mrs. Ahgood's dress took fire while she was trying to extinguish the flame. Burning garments were clinging at the top of her sofa for help. A trichoman who happened to be passing by, his train on the chair, saw the smoke and ran to the window for assistance and threw a blanket around her form, smothering the flames.

The damage done to the house was $100.

Suffered Every Minute

Castrato, Rheumatism, Chronic Diarrhea, Liver Troubles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Drives Away Every Unagreeable Symptom.

Mr. Jacob G. Anderson, a blacksmith in the same trade for the past 25 years, I have had trouble with castrato in my head, chronic diarrhea and rheumatism. My wife and children have also troubled me. Mr. Anderson's sarsaparilla has been a great blessing to us. We have had no trouble since we have been taking it.

We have been taking it for about six weeks now and we are slightly delirious. In fact, he was at the stage of the disease when it is most contagious.

The alarm was immediately sent out, and the regular and sanitary police began a search which was continued all night without success.

No trace of him has yet been discovered. The longer he is at large the greater is the cause for alarm, as there is hardly a limit to the number of persons he might affect.

DEEMING ON TRIAL.

Again Said to Have Confessed that He's "The Ripper."

His Demeanor Much Changed on His Arraignment To-Day.

Depressed by the Judge's Decision Not to Grant Further Delay.

London, April 28.—The condemned today said he was in a position to answer his accusers and the doctors who examined him when he was tried for the "ripper" crimes in the Whitechapel district of London. The article has created a stir of sensation.

The defendant of Deemings, when he was arraigned for trial in the Central Criminal Court, yesterday presented a marked difference from his conduct at the hearing. Today he was quiet and depressed, and he looked very much disappointed when the judge denied that no further delay would be granted, and that the trial should at once be proceeded with.

After the jury had been selected and the usual formalities complied with the Public Prosecutor began his speech, in which he arrayed with almost irresistible force all the facts in connection with the murder of the prisoner's wife.

Deemings had put aside the flippant air that characterized him at the previous hearings and he listened closely to the Prosecutor's speech, paying no attention to the crowd that surrounded the courtroom, eager to see the result of the contest.

Five hundred and twenty-three dollars was transferred from the unexpired balances to the treasury account of the Board of Education, £1,118,000.

The sum of £1,118,000 was remitted to the registrars of Leagues & Kermans, who was remunerated as keeper in the City Prison by an amount of £100 per year.

"Since I came out of the army, when I served over four years in the old 13th Penn. Regt., I have had trouble with castrato in my head, chronic diarrhea and rheumatism. My wife and children have also troubled me. Mr. Anderson's sarsaparilla has been a great blessing to us. We have had no trouble since we have been taking it.
